1. INTRODUCTION

According to Warren and Wellek (1956), as quoted in Jessica Apriani Maitake (2014), Literature is a fictional and imaginative work that provides language and has dominant aesthetic values. Imagination and aesthetics are the basic concepts of personal art, while language is the characteristic feature of the medium that makes literary works different from other works. In the Introduction to Literature book by Diani Syahputri (2020), the word “Literature” in its broadest sense means the whole body of writing in culture regardless of its purpose. It includes all written materials. Some examples of written materials that belong to literature used in this sense are history books, novels, magazines, philosophical works, dictionaries, newspapers, letters, poems, essays, travel folders, directories, movies, school textbooks, biographies, scientific articles, journalistic books, technical works, encyclopedias. Based on the explanation above, the researcher included literature as an imagination characterized by the excellence of style with experience and themes of general or enduring interest to make life alive.

In literature, the researcher chose movies because they were interested to analyze them. A movie is a series of moving pictures recorded with a sound that tells a story, watch at a movie theater or on a television or other device. A movie could be good if it tells a lot of educative messages. A movie can make the audience emotional and have great power in terms of aesthetics. Many people can judge, criticize and praise movies in an imaginative art form so that they were aware of entering into their fantasy. The movie is a means of mass communication media that has a very important cast of characters as a means of conveying... messages to the audience who sees it. These messages can bring positive or even negative things.

Lusiana Surya Widiani, Wawan Darmawan & Tarunasena Ma'mur movie (2018) has experienced rapid development of existing technology. The movie has various roles, besides being a means of entertainment, films can also function as learning media. While in the journal of elementary education Dadabhoy, Muhammad Yousuf Sharjeel & Kiran (2013) explain that the movie can show the audience an image therefore it can present itself to the viewers lucidly. Most people engage with the messages clearly from the movie, but some people difficult to engage them. The researcher concluded the explanations above that every movie has criteria to better about learning in education. Depending on the movie, there are many good or bad characters in the movie.

The researcher chose the movie because it provided the perspective of people who experience body shaming. The story was not boring, so it made people enjoy the “Imperfect” movie. This research focused on the analysis of moral values in the “Imperfect” movie. The researcher hopes that the reader knows the important moral values in the movie. Therefore, based on the problem in this research, the researcher conducted a study about the moral values in the “Imperfect” movie under the title “An Analysis of Moral Value in Imperfect Movie”.

2. LITERATURE REVIEW
Definition of Morality
According to Burhan Nurgiyantoro (2013), Morality or moral message that is summarized in literature work is always dealing with good action. So the researcher concluded from the explanation above that morality depend on the literary work was being directed because the moral that determines the good deeds of the writer’s literary work was entitled to determine the good or bad deeds in each character.

Meanwhile, according to BagusWaluyo (2007) as quoted in Wahid (2011), moral values are standards or principles in judging conducts or behavior. Bagus, by borrowing Stanton’s opinion, says that moral values are the same in every society, since the moral values are influenced by the culture of group or society. Based on the explanation above, the researcher concluded that morality was a moral value in a society that was not different because of a cultural factor, therefore every moral value in society was equal because it lived in the same environment.

Definition of Value
A value was belief in decisions for each other’s sake. However, that value may have a meaning for the person, the object of ideas, actions, or situations in which it was defined, and whether or not a good or bad grade depend on the decision taken. And the trust that has been given to preserve would have a bearing on this value, and therefore, it was very meaningful to preserve the trust.

According to Benninga (1991) as quoted in Adinda (2013), the term “value” may suggest that judgments of right and wrong, lofty and base, just and unjust, and more personal preferences, that things are useful as individuals happen to value them. While according to Bertens (2000) as quoted in Marlina (2013), states that value is something that interest for us, something that we look for, something that pleases, something that loved, and in short value is something good. Value have good connotation. Based on the explanation above, the researcher described that value was right and wrong for something to happen in life. So the value was something to do if you want it.
Definition of Moral Value

According to Adisusilo (1990) as quoted in Desfika Beti U, & Restu Arini (2017), stated moral values are universal truths which man holds to be good and important; they are the ethical principles which he struggles to attain and implement in his daily life. They are the ideals which transcend all time and space; those which are valid for all regardless of race or religion; the ones which unite strangers, families, nation all of humanity with God. Based on the opinion of the experts above, the researcher concluded that moral values were very important for daily life because human being make contact in their lives and outside communities.

According to Minarno and Herimanto (2011) as quoted in Dhanang (2018), the term moral value can be equated with the terms ethics, ethics, morals, decency and character. In relation to values, morals, namely part of values, are moral values. So the moral value good or bad something that has a measure in determining attitudes. Moral value will convey messages in the form of advice. Moreover, Cuddon (2013) suggests that moral value is the lesson to be learned from a story, poem, fable, play, or indeed any work which purports to teach anything either directly or obliquely. It means that every movie has different to give lesson. Depend on the watcher sometimes easy to accept the lesson or not. So the moral value too gave lessons on them.
